

AZOLLA UNIT

Azolla unit has been established with different models for the propagation of Azolla as a fodder among the farming communities in and around this station. Three different azolla units have been established for demonstration and also for utilization as a feed for the animals maintained in this station. Azolla seeds have been supplied to the farmers for establishment in their premises.

